

Name:

Leadership Essay v.1

Introduction:

- Write a sentence about the importance of leadership:

- Write one or two sentences about Napoleon in which you answer the following questions: Where is he from? What country did he lead? When did he lead the country?

- Write one or two sentences about your leader in which you answer the following questions: Name? Where is he/she from? What country did he/she lead? When did he/she lead the country?

- Write a thesis sentence in which you answer the question: Who was the better leader: Napoleon or the leader of your country? Make sure you have an opinion and a qualifier.

Body Paragraph #1

- What is the topic of this paragraph? How does it support the thesis?

- What evidence do you do you have about Napoleon?

- What evidence do you have about your leader?

- Analysis: Explain how this evidence shows who was better.

- Link this paragraph back to your thesis.

Body Paragraph #2

- What is the topic of this paragraph? How does it support the thesis?

- What evidence do you do you have about Napoleon?

- What evidence do you have about your leader?

- Analysis: Explain how this evidence shows who was better.

- Link this paragraph back to your thesis.

Body Paragraph #3

- What is the topic of this paragraph? How does it support the thesis?

- What evidence do you do you have about Napoleon?

- What evidence do you have about your leader?

- Analysis: Explain how this evidence shows who was better.

- Link this paragraph back to your thesis.

Conclusion:

- Summarize the main point of body paragraphs #1, #2, and #3.

- Restate your thesis using different words

- Significance: Answer a larger question about leadership such as: Why is leadership important for the happiness/success/well-being (choose one) of a country? How important is leadership? Can good leaders do bad things?