

Timeline of the French Revolution (H)

W - Organizing Thoughts and Ideas	I have some success.	I can construct a graphic organizer and create bulleted notes with headers/sub-headers. The information is mostly accurate and complete.	I can effectively and accurately organize my thinking and learning into a personalized, useful, and easy to understand format.	Additionally, the form enhances the function and my organization provides deeper analysis and can provide information to others.
-----------------------------------	----------------------	--	---	--

H - Engagement		I passively participate. I follow directions most of the time and sometimes take positive risks. I am willing to be a member of a group and am respectful most of the time.	I actively participate in classroom activities and discussions. I follow directions and take positive risks. I collaborate as an equal member of a group.	Additionally, I take a leadership role when appropriate.
H - Respect		Most of the time, I am respectful of others.	I am respectful towards others.	Additionally, I help to ensure a respectful and safe learning environment. I encourage and model respectful behavior to others.

Directions:

- Using one or two blank pieces of paper, create a timeline that includes the following dates.
- You will need to look up when these events took place. You may have the information in your notes, but you may need to look online.

Details:

- Timeline should be as proportional as possible
- Dates should include day, month, year
- Events should be clearly labeled with the dates
- Neatness is not just a plus, it is a requirement

Events for the Timeline (may not be in order):

- American Revolution begins
- Louis and Marie get married
- Louis becomes king
- Price of bread doubles
- The Estates General starts meeting
- The 3rd Estate is kicked out of the Estates General
- Oath of the Tennis Court
- Storming of the Bastille
- Great Fear
- October Days (women march to Versailles)
- Declaration of the Rights of Man
- National Convention rules France
- Louis tries to flee from France
- September Massacres
- Abolition of royalty in France
- Execution of Louis XVI
- Charlotte Corday murders Marat
- Execution of Marie Antoinette
- Convention rules France
- The Terror
- Robespierre killed
- Directory runs France
- Napoleon's coup d'etat
- Napoleon becomes first consul of France

Timeline of the French Revolution (P)

W - Organizing Thoughts and Ideas	I have some success.	I can construct a graphic organizer and create bulleted notes with headers/sub-headers. The information is mostly accurate and complete.	I can effectively and accurately organize my thinking and learning into a personalized, useful, and easy to understand format.	Additionally, the form enhances the function and my organization provides deeper analysis and can provide information to others.
-----------------------------------	----------------------	--	---	--

H - Engagement		I passively participate. I follow directions most of the time and sometimes take positive risks. I am willing to be a member of a group and am respectful most of the time.	I actively participate in classroom activities and discussions. I follow directions and take positive risks. I collaborate as an equal member of a group.	Additionally, I take a leadership role when appropriate.
H - Respect		Most of the time, I am respectful of others.	I am respectful towards others.	Additionally, I help to ensure a respectful and safe learning environment. I encourage and model respectful behavior to others.

Directions:

- Using one or two blank pieces of paper, create a timeline that includes the following dates.
- You will need to look up when these events took place. You may have the information in your notes, but you may need to look online.

Details:

- Timeline should be as proportional as possible
- Dates should include day, month, year
- Events should be clearly labeled with the dates
- Neatness is not just a plus, it is a requirement

Events for the Timeline (may not be in order):

- Louis and Marie get married
- Louis becomes king
- Price of bread doubles
- The Estates General starts meeting
- The 3rd Estate is kicked out of the Estates General
- Storming of the Bastille
- Great Fear
- October Days (women march to Versailles)
- Declaration of the Rights of Man
- Louis tries to flee from France
- Execution of Louis XVI
- The Terror
- Robespierre killed
- Directory runs France
- Napoleon's coup d'etat